

MASQUERADE

My house

Invitation

Now that the pandemic is finally over, I think it's high time to celebrate by doing all the things we haven't been able to for the last couple of years.

That's why I'm inviting you to a masquerade at my house, on March 30th 2022, 18:00. We'll wear masks, play some games in teams of 4 and watch Netflix.

There will be plenty of ethanol. Wear comfortable pants.

If you cannot join, there will be an open Zoom conference running in the living room – please keep your mic muted.
